1. To see other times that course sections are available, place your mouse over a course in the Course Requests area. Cells of the schedule matrix are highlighted if the class is available at that time. In auto-shuffle mode, drag and drop the course name into a colored cell to schedule a section.
2. If a course request is unfulfilled, the course name appears in red in the Course Requests area.

3. If a cell is split, look for a code before the course numbers. A full-year code, such as [FY], means conflicting courses were allowed to be scheduled. Term or semester codes, such as [S1] and [S2], means that the courses will be taken in different terms or semesters.
4. A indicates that a course is locked in position. Click Reschedule, and courses reschedule around locked courses. Click or to lock or unlock the section.
5. At the Work Mode, select one of the following:
 - Auto-Shuffle: Aspen determines the next best place to put a course in the student's schedule.
 - Manual: Drag and drop courses between periods and days on the matrix to find the best place for each course on the student's schedule.

6. If there is an asterisk next to a course number on the schedule, the changes made to that course have not been saved. Click Post to save the schedule.
7. Reschedule: The current schedule is deleted, and the system attempts to schedule the student in as many requested courses as possible. Changes are not permanent until you click Post.
8. Post (not shown): Saves the new schedule. Seats in dropped sections are lost. Revert (not shown): Go back to the last posted schedule.
